

Costantinos

My name's Cos, well it's not really Cos, my name's Costas, it's not really Costas because my true name is Costantinos but these are some of the abbreviations used in this great country because Costantinos is a bit of a mouthful.

I'm 22 years old, and born in Islington, North London. Whittingdon hospital to be precise.

There's a violin playing in the background yeah, that's the object I bought in and that's what I've been photographed with because I love the violin. It's a cool instrument and it's part of my life and its a way in which I express myself.

I play Greek music as well as classical music because it's an extension of my culture. Some people are well into their Greek food, well I'm well into my Greek violin playing yeah, well that's that.

I see myself as Greek, purely Greek and nothing else though some people might question that. I'm lucky to be born here in England and I'm unlucky to be born here in England because I was deprived of being brought up in my country where all my forefathers were brought up. Basically I can speak the English language as a consequence of being brought up here and I'm lucky to have been brought up here and that's it and I still see myself as Greek though I probably speak English better than I speak Greek but there you go.